Rain

Rain is falling down... splash!
(Gently flutter your fingers on baby's body to imitate the feeling of raindrops, and end with a gentle "splash.")

Rain is falling down... splash!
Pitter patter, pitter patter,
Rain is falling down... splash!

Sun is peeking out... peek!
(Play peek-a-boo, with your hand over your eyes)
Sun is peeking out... peek!
Peeking out, peeking out,
Sun is peeking out... peek!

In the Rain

Babies love to learn about our world. Use a rainy day to have fun and learn together.

Ideas & Tips

- What does rain sound like? Use as many different words and sounds as you can to imitate the sound of rain (drip, drop, thub, blub, pup pup pup...).
- Rainy days are a great opportunity to talk about senses and temperature. Outside, talk about how the rain feels: cold and wet. Indoors, let baby touch cool objects from the refrigerator, a blanket warm from the dryer, or a cold bag of frozen peas. Talk about how these feel: warm or cool. Be sure to test temperature of items first, to ensure safety for baby.
- A beautiful place to enjoy the rain without getting wet is the W. W. Seymour Botanical Conservatory in Wright Park in Tacoma. Your baby will enjoy the sight and smell of a variety of beautiful plants while watching the rain fall on the large glass windows.
